EXCHANGE CONTROL ORDINANCE

Hongkong Govt. Demands Surrender Of Gold & Silver Into Treasury

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

HONGKONG, Dec. 5.

The Government announce that the Exchange control measure which reads inter alia: "Each note issuing bank shall surrender to the Colonial Treasurer all silver coin and bullion held against note issue, while the Treasurer shall issue in exchange certificates to the face value of the notes covered by such silver."

The Government are establishing an "Exchange Fund" which will be under the control of the Treasurer for the purpose of regulating the Exchange value of currency. The Treasurer's control shall be exercised in consultation with the Exchange Fund Advisory Committee which is to consist of the Treasurer, ex-officio chairman and other members appointed by the Governor.

All silver coins and bullion surrendered to the Treasury have been paid into this Fund.

Any person holding British dollars, Mexican dollars, Hongkong subsidiary coins and bullion exceeding the value of 10 dollars shall surrender the same within a month to the Treasury who pay for coin in Hongkong currency at face value, and for bullion at 128 cents fine ounce.

Any person contravening the ordinance is liable to imprisonment not exceeding a year and forfeiture of coins and bullion concerned and a fine not exceeding twice the value of such coins and bullion.

MR. K. F. NARIMAN, MAYOR OF BOMBAY, WATCHING THE MATCH OF THE "AUSSIES" ON THURSDAY

Hoare Must Withdraw Guildhall Speech

ANGLO-EGYPTIAN UNDERSTANDING

Mussolini Has Created Most Favourable Atmosphere, Says Dr. Dalton

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

LONDON, Dec. 5.

The Egyptian Minister and other diplomats were present in the House of Commons at the opening of the Foreign Affairs discussion by Dr. Dalton, the ex-Labour Foreign Under-Secretary, who, referring to Egypt, said that Sgr. Mussolini had created the most favourable opportunity for a final and friendly settlement of the Anglo-Egyptian relations which successive British Governments had hitherto vainly sought. The negotiations in 1930, when very close to a settlement, broke down over the Sudan. He was of the opinion that if the Egyptian delegates had then taken the late Mr. Arthur Henderson's advice and postponed the Sudan question for later discussion, there would have been a treaty. The conditions against which the Egyptians were chafing would have disappeared.

QUESTION TO HOARE.

"Whatever the Egyptians may think of us, I doubt if any of them wish to see the Italian Dictator in their midst scowling at the Pyramids. That is why, in view particularly of the provocative troops' movements in Libya, I say that the present moment is the most hopeful for an Anglo-Egyptian settlement."

Dr. Dalton proceeded to criticise Sir Samuel Hoare's Guild Hall speech on November 11 and then asked whether negotiations for a settlement had yet begun. If not, are they contemplated in the near future and are they being prepared?"

Dr. Dalton also suggested that Sir Samuel Hoare should either withdraw or modify his remarks in the Guild Hall speech in view of the unfortunate reaction to it.

HOARE'S REPLY

Sir Samuel Hoare replying to Dr. Dalton said that the British Government did not disguise the fact that, as experience had shown, neither the 1923 nor the 1930 Constitutions were suited to Egypt, although they accompanied this advice with the repeated suggestion that steps should be taken with a view to drafting the organic law acceptable to all elements in Egypt. The letter which the Prime Minister had addressed to King Fauad on April 17, indicated that this suggestion did not conflict with the Prime Minister's views.

Mr. Nessim Pasha in a communique on November 24, referred to the former suggestion made by the High Commissioner.

I should explain that the former was not intended as an indication to veto, but as a suggestion for use by the Prime Minister in making it clear in Egypt his position. The suggestion was to the effect that no one was opposed to return to Parliamentary life at the proper moment, but it was for the Egyptian Government to study the question in all its aspects with a view to finding the form of constitution suitable for Egypt's real needs and it was for the Egyptian Government to decide the manner of elaborating this suggestion, preferably by a drafting committee comprising the elements of all parties.

Sir Samuel Hoare hoped that this would dispose of the idea that it was the British intention to impose any veto on return to constitutional life or dictate the form of law on which it would be based. There was no question of imposing such a veto to which our traditions alone preclude, nor any question of dictation in the matter of regarding which the British Government had taken the position to set out in the 1822 letter to the Sultan.

Sir Samuel concluded:—

"I should like to make it clear that the British Government are in no way unsympathetic to the Egyptian aspirations and remain as in the past, ready to promote their realisation". He regretted that the Guild Hall speech had been misunderstood. The British Government were imbued with the friendliest feelings towards Egypt. Therefore it considered it proper to make a frank statement of the whole matter. The establishment of Anglo-Egyptian relations on a permanent and mutually satisfactory footing was receiving the earnest and constant consideration with a view to finding the best means of achieving this result.—Reuter.

MAHATMA TAKEN ILL AT PRAYERS

Dr. Khare Rushes From Nagpur On Receipt Of Message

HEALTH NOW NORMAL

NAGPUR, Dec. 5.

The Associated Press is informed that Mahatma Gandhi suddenly developed uneasiness and experienced heaviness in the head last evening at the time of evening prayers.

The feeling, it appears, lasted for a very short period after which Gandhiji lay down and took complete rest.

On receipt of a message from Wardha, Dr. N. B. Khare proceeded from Nagpur to Wardha to-day and examined Gandhiji. Dr. Khare advised Gandhiji to take complete rest for four days.

Mahatma Gandhi's health is now normal and there is no cause for any anxiety.—A. P.

REPRINTING INDIA ACT

House Of Lords Passes Second Reading

LONDON, Dec. 5.

In the House of Lords moving the second reading of the Government of India (Reprinting) bill Marquis of Zetland said the bill was short and he hoped uncontroversial. Meticulous examination of the text of the Government of India act revealed a few small printers' errors and a few cases in which some changes were desirable to meet the demands of good grammar. The opportunity had been taken to give effect to eleven such changes. The only amendment which might be said to have the effect of making a possible change on the Statute referred to the administration of British Baluchistan in Section 95 Sub Sec. 1, words "through the Chief Commissioner", were omitted in the new bill.

He pointed out that if the clause remained as printed it might suggest that it was only when he was acting through the Chief Commissioner that the Governor-General should act at his discretion. The intention of the Act was whether acting through the Chief Commissioner or himself Governor-General should be acting at his discretion.

Lord Salisbury said it was clear from Lord Zetland's speech that it would be unnecessary to ask if the amendments made any real change.

The bill passed the second reading.—Reuter.

Big Oil Deal To Meet League Embargo

American Company's Guarantee To Meet Italian Demand In Return For 30 Yrs' Monopoly

(SPECIAL CABLE).

PARIS: December 5.

Despite the Italian Government's denial, the Rome Correspondent of "Le Matin" asserts that negotiations have successfully been concluded between Italy and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, whereby if the oil embargo is voted at Geneva, the Company would furnish Italy all the oil it requires.

In Event Of Blockade

In the event of a blockade in the Mediterranean, the needs of the Italian expeditionary force would be covered by sending consignments via Far-East.

Italy's Offer

The Italian Government, in return, will give the Company a 30-year monopoly to supply the Italian Government with oil.

Credit Talks

The Correspondent also declares that Italy has discussed with the American firm the question of opening credit of 1,000 million gold lire to develop the Albanian oil-fields, from which an Italian Government official is reported to have said, Italy could obtain within a year 3,00,000 tons of oil annually.

NO WEAKENING OF THE LEAGUE

But Britain & France Will Make Another Effort At Settlement, Says Hoare

LONDON, Dec. 5.

In the House of Commons Sir Samuel Hoare, speaking on Foreign Affairs during the debate on the King's Address, denied that there had been any change in Foreign Policy since the departure of Sir John Simon. The Government had made fresh attempts to discuss the question of armaments reductions with Herr Hitler and regretted that the present German view was that as long as the Abyssinian war continued, there was little to be gained by continuing the discussions.

Sir Samuel Hoare declared that an Air Pact and reduction of air armaments were urgently needed The Government would lose no opportunity of resuming the discussions hoping to bring them to a successful termination.

COLONIAL QUESTIONS CAN WAIT.

Dealing with Colonial raw materials, he recalled his speech at Geneva in which he had admitted the anxiety of certain countries not possessing raw materials. He believed that the problem was economic and not political. The Government were ready for investigation in a calm dispassionate atmosphere. The matter could not be discussed with any hope of settlement in an atmosphere of war.—

Dealing with the position in relation to Abyssinia in the House of Commons Sir S. Hoare said that the Sanctions were working well, the situation being constantly watched and if gaps were found every effort would be made to strengthen the common front. He said that the League had already agreed to the principle of Oil Embargo. The question still to be decided was whether the action of non-member States would render the action ineffective. He emphasised that no one government was any more responsible than the others for a collective decision or indeed any sanctions proposals.

APPEAL TO MUSSOLINI

Having refused the charge that British oil companies exploited the situation Sir S. Hoare said the delay in the meeting of the Committee of Eighteen was unavoidable in order that France should adequately be represented. It meant no weakening of the members' attitude but it did give a further opportunity for intensive effort to find a peaceful settlement. "It may be that we are engaged in a hopeless task in that it would be impossible to reconcile the divergent aims of Italy, Abyssinia and the League. Nevertheless France and we intend not only to continue trying but to redouble our efforts during the short period that is still open before the Geneva meeting. We are determined to make another great effort we have no wish to humiliate or weaken Italy. Indeed, we are most anxious to see a strong Italy. I appeal once more to Sgr. Mussolini and his fellow-countrymen—I draw no distinction between them—to dismiss entirely the suspicion that we have sinister motives. We have none. We have no wish to drive a wedge between Italy and France, no wish to weaken Sgr. Mussolini's position or to destroy the Fascist regime or interfere in Italy's internal affairs. Can not we lay aside the suspicions, concentrate on finding the basis of settlement making it possible for the world to return to normal life.

NO WEAKENING OF LEAGUE

There is not a nation participating in the sanctions that would not be delighted to see friendly relations with Italy restored, and the sanctions ended but as long as collective action is needed the League, including ourselves, are bound to proceed under the Covenant nor is there any likelihood, that the League will weaken or the members fail to play their part."

Sir S. Hoare did not disguise the difficulties but they must not despair at surmounting them. There were sufficient difficulties in the world without the added trouble and danger of the Abyssinian dispute. "The nations need a long period of rest and quiet if economic recovery is to be assured and permanent peace to be established. The peace of the Britain, Empire and the world being the basis of our policy we shall not hesitate to make our voice heard and influence felt against war and international strife."

DOMINION APPEALS TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Lord Chancellor Explains When Cases May Be Admitted

(SPECIAL CABLE).

LONDON: Dec. 5.

Announcing the decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council to-day, granting leave to appeal from the decision of the High Court of Australia, the Lord Chancellor said that the Committee was anxious to make it clear that they did not desire to encourage appeals from the Supreme Court of any Dominions or to enlarge the class of cases, in which such appeals would be entertained.

The "prima facie" decision of the Supreme Court of Australia or other Dominions was final and the order to justify the grant of special leave to appeal against such decision, there must be a case involving some difficult question of law and fact, and it must be a matter of great public interest and importance.

BRITAIN'S FRIENDLY GESTURE?

Warships Withdrawn From Gibralter

LONDON, Dec. 5.

It is officially announced that the British warships stationed at Gibraltar are going on a cruise and are proceeding to a spot, in the Atlantic within easy reach of the Straits.

The suggestions that the move is intended as a friendly gesture to Italy, are declared in well-informed quarters in London to be not justified.

The cruise is taking the place of a normal course of fleet exercises. The ships though literally leaving the Mediterranean will never be far from Gibraltar.—Reuter.

AROUND THE COURTS

BOMBAY, Thursday.

In connection with the assault on Fakir Zaman, a plumber and night-watchman on Tuesday last, one Ismatulla Datulla has been arrested by the Byculla Police.

It will be recalled that in the early hours of Tuesday morning Zaman was sleeping on a cot in the shop of Aladin Virji at Magazine Street, when he was brutally assaulted with a hammer.

He was taken to the J. J. Hospital in a serious condition, and gained consciousness some time later.

It was then that he made a statement that he was assaulted on the day in question by Datulla.

The accused has been remanded into Police custody till Dec. 19.

The Chief Justice at the High Court Sessions sentenced Gulmahomed Karim, a Pathan, to five years' rigorous imprisonment on the jury finding him, by a majority of 8 to 1, guilty of house-breaking robbery, and receiving stolen property.

Another man, Mir Haidar Jamatkhan, who was charged with abetment was found not guilty and acquitted.

There were in all 6 Pathans involved in this case, of whom Sulemansha Mir Ahmedsha turned an approver, and the remaining three are absconding.

It was alleged by the prosecution that on July 3 last the accused had entered the house of one Banubai at Sewri Cross Road and decamped with gold and silver ornaments.

SUB-BROKER ARRESTED

The Bombay C.I.D., arrested one Shantilal Chhaganlal Parekh on Wednesday on a charge of Criminal misappropriation in respect of 5 shares of the Behgal Assam Steam Navigation Co., valued at Rs. 1,103-12 and 100 shares of the British Burma Petrol Co., valued at Rs. 562-8.

The accused was placed before Mr. D. N. D. Khandalawalla, Third Presidency Magistrate, Esplanade Police Court, Bombay, to-day and was ordered to be remanded till the 19th instant, pending enquiries.

It was stated that Dr. P. C. Chockawalla entrusted to the accused who was a sub-broker, 5 shares of the B. A. S. N. Co., for getting the dividend.

Another 100 shares of the B. B. Petroleum Co., were handed over to the accused by Jamnadas Mulchand, to be handed over to Dr. Chockawalla.

It was alleged that the accused misappropriated the same for his own use and committed an offence under Sec. 409 I.P.C.

Along World's Far-Flung Airways

America To Orient In Three Days... The "Clipper" Is Ready ... East Africa Air Club ... Gliding In U. S. A., Germany And Russia ... Italy's North African Air Service

With the delivery of the world's premier aircraft for range and load-carrying, the "China Clipper," 25-1/2-ton Martin flying boat, to Pan American Airways scheduled transpacific and transatlantic air service draws very near. It will be a matter of only weeks before two sister ships of this huge craft, which can carry forty-three passengers and a crew of seven on routes requiring non-stop flights of 1,200 miles, and eighteen passengers, crew and cargo non-stop for 3,000 miles are delivered and ready to link the United States and the Orient in a service of three and a half days.

Trans-Atlantic Route

With such range and load capabilities it would be a simple matter to open the transatlantic service also as far as flying equipment is concerned. There the longest over-water hop by the island route—that between Bermuda and the Azores—is only 1,824 miles, as contrasted with 2,410 miles of water which lie between Alameda and Hawaii on the Pacific airline.

The matter of transatlantic air-service is not, however, merely a matter of aircraft. It is an international problem, since Great Britain controls Bermuda and landing rights in the Azores must be worked out internationally, with Portugal sitting in.

In this field Pan-American and Imperial Airways, the British Empire line, have long ago reached a full understanding. The two companies will inaugurate the service jointly.

Lindbergh Survey

It will be recalled, however, that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, in the long survey flight which he made with his wife two years ago for Pan-American Airways, of which he is the technical adviser, carefully examined the northern island route to Europe by way of Newfoundland, Greenland, Iceland and the Faroes, as well as the more southerly passage. It may well be that eventually both routes will be flown, perhaps alternatively or seasonally at first.

In any case, either is now entirely feasible with the giant, luxurious Clipper ships which American engineering genius has made ready to carry American travel above the wide seas.

These great ships are only the beginning. Already plans for far far larger craft are prepared. Glenn Martin, for example, is ready to build a flying boat which would weigh, loaded, fifty tons and have an estimated range with five-ton pay load of 5,000 miles.

Aero Club Of East Africa

A grant of £100 per annum has been made by the Government to the Aero Club of East Africa for the training of pilots. This follows an application made in June on behalf of the Aero Club Flying Subsidiary Fund, and the terms of the proposed grant have been announced after the matter had been placed before the Governor-in-Council. The Government's attitude is that it attaches more importance to the training of pilots from the beginning than to "refresher" courses, and for pilots so trained who obtain their "A" licences a grant will be made of £10 per pilot up to a total of five members. For members who have not held an 'A" licence for a period of a year but who re-qualify and obtain their "A" licence after a "refresher" course, there will be a grant of £5 per pilot up to ten members. The total grant is therefore limited to £100 a year; the continuance of the grants after the current year will be dependent upon the approval of the Legislative Council.

Gliding In America

With a successful meet at the Big Meadows site in the Shenandoah National Park just closed, the Soaring Society of America is now awaiting the result on ballots for officers for the ensuing year. Under the presidency of Lieut. Commander Ralph Barnaby, the society has had a very encouraging season and seems assured of Federal funds for its development.

Its officers have just received detailed information on the annual meeting of German glider enthusiasts at the Vasserkuppe which shows that the soaring movement is making sustained progress in Germany. This year's soaring contest on the famous site indicated a considerable degree of standardization in soaring plane types.

The Rhoensperber and the Goeppingen 3 were the only new designs in gliders this year. The Rhonadler has a span of 57 feet, 1 inch; weight, 364 pounds; wing loading 2.8 pounds per square foot; sinking speed, 2 feet per second. The Rhoenbussard has a splin of 46 feet, 11 inches; weight, 298 pounds; wing loading, 3.1 pounds per square foot; sinking speed, 2 feet 4 inches per second.

The Rhoensperber, designed by Ludwig Hoffman, has gull wings, and is of the midwing type, the wings originating well down on sides of the fuselage. The cockpit covering is in the form of a transparent streamlined turret, giving the pilot splendid vision in practically all directions. Its span is fifty feet.

The performance of the Rhoensperber, especially considering as recent design, is outstanding. Hoffman made a flight of 296 miles, which stood as a world's record until the remarkable four-plane light to Brno in Czechoslovakia, a distance of 313 miles. One of the soarers on this notable trip also, was a Rhoensperber. The pilots were Braentigem and Oeltzschner of Dresden. Steinhoff of Bad Frankenhausen and Heidemann of Hamburg. Unfortunately, Oeltzschner lost his life while being airplane-towed back again as the result of a structural failure. His three companions have asked that he alone be regarded as the record holder.

High Average

All pilots taking part in the contest were required to carry passports. The total distance flown during the two weeks of the meet was 22,000 miles. There were 513 launchings giving the average of forty-two miles per flight. The summation of distance flights shows:

140 flights of over 35 miles.
113 flights of over 60 miles.
41 flights of over 120 miles.
16 flights of over 180 miles.
9 flights of over 240 miles.
4 flights of over 300 miles.

Progress in duration soaring was also evidenced by the results of the huge meet concluded the other day by Soviet air men and women at the Koktebel in the Crimea. During the days of competition a single-seater remained in the air for 38 hours 10 minutes; a two-seater, 38 hours 40 minutes; a three-seater, 11 hours 30 minutes, while a single-seater piloted by a woman stayed aloft 15 hours 30 minutes.

Air trains of towed gliders to which the Russians appear to attach a great deal of importance, also made notable distance flights.

Italian North African Service

On the 4th September Ala Littoria began operating the Benghazi-Alexandria service, which is an extension of that from Tripoli to Benghazi, which has been operating since 1931. Aircraft leave Benghazi every Wednesday at 06.30 hours, and call at Derna, Amseat and Mersa Matruh before landing at Alexandria at 15.50 hours (Egyptian time). On the return journey aircraft leave Alexandria at 07.30 hours (Egyptian time) on Wednesday arriving at Benghazi at 15.00 hours. The new service connects with the Alexandria-Khartoum service of Imperial Airways which in turn provides a connection with the Italian service from Khartoum to Asmara. The aircraft used are Caproni 101 fitted with three 270 h.p. Alfa Dux engines.

Miscellany For Motorists

What Accidents Cost U. S. A. .... 300 Million Dollars .... And 34,000 Lives! .... Safety Teaching In America .... Japan's Car Production .... Some Oil News .... How Cars Are Advertised.

Traffic accidents and congestion had a good year in 1935 in United States of America in spite of the fact that much was done about it. It can be proved statistically that, if the present accident rate continues, one out of every three children born to-day will be killed or seriously injured in an automobile accident at some time during his normal life. On the other hand, it can also be shown that the average person driving an automobile to-day might properly expect to go a thousand years without being killed while driving or riding in an automobile. Somewhere in between these two pictures lies the real problem.

Money and figures concerning economic phases can be juggled. But, no matter how they are presented some dol. 3,000,000,000 for accidents and congestion was the cost in cold cash last year. Add to this 34,000 in the unpleasant currency of human lives, and the result is a staggering total which commands not only attention but public action.

Safety Teaching In Schools

One of the methods adopted to check this loss of life and property is to teach safety in the schools. There would be little point to the teaching of culture if the recipients were soon to become victims of traffic accidents. The brightest spot in traffic-accident reduction has been the teaching of safety education in the elementary schools. At the present time approximately 250,000 children are acting as schoolboy patrols in over 1,000 cities. This general activity is now saving child lives at the rate of about 8,500 a year. This is especially significant when it is realized that, since 1922, adult fatalities have increased 184 per cent.

The next major step in safety education, which received its preliminary impetus this year, is the teaching of safety in high schools. Surely learning how to drive safely is an economic and social accomplishment which warrants the consideration of every educational body. A brief survey in Massachusetts of 10,896 students in five different cities indicated that 50 per cent of the students' families had cars, almost 10 per cent of the students had licenses, over 25 per cent expected to have them before the end of the year, 9 per cent had already been involved in accidents and half of these had no licenses at the time.

At present, the educational department of every State is working on a high school programme. The rapid growth of this activity is expected to produce effective results within a comparatively short time.

And In Universities

Another interesting development has been the establishment of an institute of public safety at Purdue University. According to Franklin M. Kreml the newly appointed director, the institute has assembled together a seven-point programme, among which are street traffic, police protection, and scientific and technical research. This additional assistance from the ranks of universities should be of great value to the traffic field.

Don't Stress Speed

I am against the stressing of high speeds in automobile advertising writes E. H. Macarty in "New York Times." It is only natural that, when the high speed of his car is brought constantly to an owner's attention, and when speed rivalry is made a point of public issue by various automobile manufacturers, the ordinary driver cannot resist the temptation to use this necessary but dangerous element on every possible occasion. Safety experts agree that speeding and disregard for the rights of others are responsible for the majority of traffic fatalities. Obviously, so long as speed is encouraged and made an issue by manufacturers, accidents are going to mount.

Power and flexibility are, after all, the essentials of the modern motor car. Speed is the result, rather than cause, of these essentials and the experienced driver will use this element only in emergencies.

Safety and operating economy, in my opinion, have replaced power and speed as the qualities most desired by the public in the cars it will buy during 1936.

Car Manufacture In Japan

How with the active help of the State, manufacture of car is increasing in Japan appears from the following report taken from "The Japan Times:"—

"The production of automobiles named "Isuzu," manufactured by both the Tokyo Gas Electric Industrial company and the automobile industrial company are estimated at as high as 1,000 cars for the current year.

This is accounted for chiefly by a sharp increase in productive capacities of the two companies in question because of a large amount of subsidies given by the Ministry of Commerce and Industry for 1933 and 1934.

It is reported that the output had hitherto been only 300 cars'"

This refers only to one of the dozen of car factories which are producing tens of thousands of cars every year in Japan.

* * * *

Oil And Engine Life

Changes in the chemical composition of oil may make possible engines of higher pressure and power whose life may be "indefinitely prolonged," according to reports of experiments being made by engineers of the Atlantic Refining Company at Toms River, New Jersey. Researchers it is said, have discovered a chemical agent that increases the film strength of motor oil 200 to 300 per cent. In tests, six cars have been driven 88,000 miles and it is intended to keep them running until they reach 100,000 miles.

* * * *

Trucks, More Trucks

Increasing recognition of the advantages inherent in motor truck transportation is reflected in the 1935 production figures of American motor truck manufacturers.

Indications are that 725,000 units will be turned out of the factories by the end of the year. This represents a 21 per cent increase over 1934, and places this year's production second only to that of 1929. A total of 535,041 trucks were manufactured during the first eight months of this year.

Some Advertising!

Seventy-three hundred newspapers throughout the United States will be on the Chevrolet advertising schedule for the coming year, it is announced by C. P. Fisken, advertising manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, who has been directing Chevrolet's heavy expenditures in that direction.

"Not only new cars, but trucks, used cars, service and accessories will be advertised in newspapers, which will continue to be the backbone of Chevrolet's advertising effort," he added.

"No matter what other media may develop, they will always be supplementary in character. Newspapers are the 'main track,' and in the very nature of things, we believe they always will be."

Casanova And Mamluk Al Iraq Shape Well On Track

(By Our Special Correspondent)

The nip in the early morning air has given quite a 'Kruschen feeling' to horses at exercise on the Mahaluxmi tracks. Several smart gallops were noted during the week:—

RAMBLER (Vatard) covered 6 furlongs on the grass. Improving at a fast pace.

COUNT ITO (Burn) trounced BEAUTAUR (Bowley) over a mile. The former will take a lot of beating.

ON TIME (Graham) proved superior to THRACIAN PRINCE (Bullock) in a mile test.

CARNELIAN (Brace) and QUICK IMAGE (O'Neale) went a mile at steady pace. Both are ready.

DALYMOUNT PARK (S. Black) outpaced POMPIDHOR (Forsyth) in a mile trial on the tan.

GRECIAN ORB (Forsyth) gave complete satisfaction in a rousing mile gallop. Much improved.

KNIGHT'S ADVENTURE (Riding Boy) beat JELAL SHAH (Riding Boy) over a mile on the grass.

MISTY DAWN (O' Neale) and BEDSOCKS (Brace) travelled 9 furlongs on the tan, finishing abreast. Both are in excellent trim.

MAGNITUDE (Riding Boy) spurted 3 furlongs. Fair.

MYRRH (A. Sibbritt) easily defeated a stablemate over 5 furlongs on the tan. Keep an eye on the Governor's horse.

TELLER (Spackman) proved superior to ARGYLL (Davison) over 5 furlongs. The former is in tip top condition.

EVE (Brace) beat HOLLYWOOD NIGHTS (O'Neale) in a 6 furlongs gallop. The former should be noted.

COMTE DE GRASSE (Riding Boy) shaped well over 5 furlongs on the tan.

ROBERTA (Vatard) showed great improvement when sent 7 furlongs on the grass.

BOLD BANDIT (Graham) had CHEAP JACK (Bullock) for company over 7 furlongs. Both are fit and well.

HILL NOTE (Sibbritt) and FAIR GREEK (Graham) went 6 furlongs. Fair.

GREEK JACK (Harding) showed to advantage over NADOVA (Reynolds) in a 7 furlongs gallop. The former has given entire satisfaction.

CASANOVA (Burn) finished well in front of a stablemate in a 7 furlongs gallop. Much improved.

RUNNING SEA (Brace) was a length in front of HONEYSUCKLE (Riding Boy) at the end of a 7 furlongs trial. Smart performance.

AL HAMIL (Vatard) held THE KNUT (Riding Boy) over 9 furlongs on the grass. Fair.

HAVANA (Riding Boy) was fair in a 9 furlongs burst.

SHOGAT AZIZ (Britt) and BUICK (Munro) were not extended in a 9 furlongs trial. Both are at their best.

ABDUL MALIK (Blyth) beat HAKIM PASHA (Black) by a length over the mile course.

IMPRESSIONS OF THE AUSTRALIANS

Indian Batsmen's Miserable Show

(BY J. C. MAITRA.)

The match between the Australians and an Indian XI turned out to be a massacre of the latter in their first venture, at any rate. They had the great advantage of batting on what may be aptly called a batsman's wicket, thanks to the spin of the coin going in their favour. But they all failed to make the best of it, and were dismissed for the paltry total of 163 runs. To say that the visitors' bowling was too much for them would be putting too high a premium on it which it did not deserve. The act of the matter is that they took it all very lightly and began to punish it in a blindfold manner. Because M. M. Naidu and L. P. Jai had knocked up centuries against the Australians, they thought they could do it in a much easier fashion: Therefore they threw all caution to the winds and paid the penalty for it very dearly. Yesterday I had said that if they mixed courage with steadiness they should do very well. With the exception of C. K. Nayudu and Lalsingh, and Amarnath to a certain extent, none of the other batsmen mixed caution with their dashing play. Had they done so, the Indian total might have been double at least of what is now recorded.

Two Expected Failures

As was expected, Navle, failed hopelessly as an opening batsman, the clear reason being that he is not what he was a few years ago. That was the reason why he was dropped by the Hindu Selection Committee in the Quadrangular Tournament. But the All-India Selectors in their superior wisdom preferred to be guided by his past reputation than his present form. And the result was what it should be. Had they selected Hindlekar in his stead, their batting strength would have immensely improved. Not that he would have scored a big figure but he would have broken the back of the bowling by his steady batting. Mushtaque Ali as an opening batsman would also have been invaluable. But the selectors for reasons best known to themselves stuck on to Palia who like Navle has become a spent force, though rather early in years.

Indian's Early Disaster.

Wazir Ali and Navle opened the home innings. Navle was out with the first ball he played, Oxenham holding him off Hendry (2—1—0). Wazir Ali was the next to go with the addition of 4 runs only. Oxenham was again responsible for the catch, the bowler being Leather. This was indeed a disastrous start—a sad contrast to the score put up by the local pair, Hindlekar and Kadri, against them. But more than that. While the Bombay pair paved the way for a big score by taking the sting out of the Australian bowlers, the All-India pair sacrificed a great batsman who might have contributed lavishly had he come in later on.

The Bright Spots

Wazir Ali had been scoring consistently recently. His early disappearance cast a gloom on the huge crowd of spectators. The association of C. K. Nayudu with Amarnath brightened things up however. They took good measure of the bowling and punished with judicious care and precision. The Australian skipper took off the fast bowler, Leather and Hendry, and placed Ironmonger and Oxenham, the slow ones in charge. Strange as it may seem, Ryder had the fielders close in still, he himself standing at silly mid-on to snap up any possible catch. The batsmen, would not fall into his trap. On the other hand, they hit the loose ones in splendid style. C. K was the first to lift Ironmonger on the Islam Gymkhana tent for a glorious six. The rate of scoring was so quick that 60 was collected in as many minutes.

The Second Set-Back

Then came the second set-back, Amarnath who was playing in his bright, aggressive style, fell a victim to Oxenham. Ellis holding him smartly behind the wickets. In his score of 35 runs compiled in 57 minutes Amarnath had 7 fours to his credit. It was rather surprising that Palia who had not shown any great batting form of late, was sent in next. He repaid the compliment by returning to the pavilion without adding a single run to the total. Between Oxenham and Ellis, they neatly planned and carried out the downfall of these two batsmen. 66 runs for 4 wickets was a dreadful record to look at. But as Nayudu, Lal Singh and Amar Singh were still behind Indian hopes survived.

Yuvaraja's Merry Innings

At this juncture, the Yuvaraja of Patiala entered the arena. He was greeted with a mighty shout of "shame, shame" from round the tents. The Yuvaraja was lucky to find two slow bowlers in change on arrival. He opened his shoulders straight away and flogged them without the least respect. Oxenham received his special attention. Four times he lifted him over the ropes. Mair who replaced him also had a similar fate but not long. The googly bowler had his stumps shattered when he had reached 40 in half an hour. His score included 5 sixes and 1 four. The pace of scoring was so quick at one stage during this period that 40 runs were telegraphed in 20 minutes.

Sad End Of A Brave Fight

Half the side was now sacked for the poor figure of 114. But a worse fate was soon to follow. Nayudu mistimed one of Leather's express deliveries and was dismissed 2 runs later. Looking to the awful state of affairs, Nayudu had steadied down considerably and was satisfied in collecting runs without any undue risk. He was at the wickets for 100 minutes to compile his 36 which boasted of only 1 six and 4 fours. Amarsingh commenced his fireworks with a sixer. But Mair was too clever for his wild blandishments. The googly bowler clean bowled him for 8 runs, the total being 125 for 7 wickets. It was then realised that All-India had a big tail in the last three batsmen. It was therefore feared that their total might not reach even the next half century mark.

The Collapse.

Immediately after the lunch interval, Mubarak Ali lost his wicket to Mair. Mubarak Ali had not broken his duck and not a single run had been added to the total. Amir Elahi, however, made a brave stand and helped Lalsingh to add 20 runs for the ninth wicket. He was really unlucky in playing on to the wicket off Mair. He had also earned the distinction of lifting Ironmonger over the boundary. This was the eighth sixer of the day. Nissar's partnership with Lalsingh added 8 runs to the total. The Indian speed-merchant skied Mair recklessly and was safely held by Oxenham. Lalsingh remained unbeaten with 25 to his account including 4 fours.

Four Duck-hunters And Their Master

It was a most miserable batting performance for an All-India side. Four batsmen were out duck-hunting—Navle, Palia, Mubarak Ali and Nissar. And three others, Wazir Ali, Amarsingh and Amir Elahi, contributed but 24 runs between themselves. A worse show could not have been expected.

Mair easily carried the bowling honours of the day capturing 5 wickets for 50 runs in 8.4 overs, one of which was a maiden. Leather and Oxenham bagged two each for 18 and 42 respectively. It is also worthy of note that Oxenham was responsible for 3 catches of the day, to the two of Ellis, the wicket-keeper. The Australian fielding in general was exceedingly good.

Fine Examples Of Batsmanship

The Australians also had a sensational beginning. They lost two wickets when their score was only 16, the first of Hendry going at 2. It seemed Nissar and Amarsingh were in luck. The dismissal of Wendell Bill, one of their most reliable bats, so early was very encouraging for the Indians. Bill was in the same unfortunate position as Amir Elahi, having played on to his wicket. Morrisby and Ryder joined together then to set an example to the Indians in patience and perseverance. They watched every ball with perfect keenness, and punished the loose ones carefully. They carried their bats till the end of the day—for a period of over 100 minutes—and collected 54 and 59 respectively, raising the total to 124. Ryder had offered one chance just before he reached 50. But Palia, although within reach, did not attempt to hold it. The great bowling strength of the Indians of which so much had been made was smashed to the ground by these two batsmen. And it would not be at all surprising if the visitors pile up a total which might be beyond the reach of the home team in their second innings.

SO FAT SHE COULD SCARCELY BREATHE

Relief After Losing 14 lbs.

HEALTH IMPROVED BY KRUSCHEN

There are a number of different ailments that are apt to arise in men and women when they become excessively fat. That is why insurance companies will sometimes reject applications of overweight people—they can't afford to take any risks But if excess fat is reduced in the right way, very often improved health follows—as it did with this woman:—

"I used to have a great deal of fat that seemed to nearly stop me breathing, especially when I knelt down to do any housework, or was walking up a hill. I would simply have to fight for my breath for about 20 minutes. But now that has all gone, thanks to Kruschen. I have lost 14 lbs. in weight, and am able to get about in comfort. I feel so much better, and am so pleased to have lost some of the fat that was steadily gaining ground with me, and ruining my general health."—(Miss) A. K.

There are six vital mineral salts in Kruschen. These salts combat the cause of fat by assisting the internal organs to perform their functions properly—to throw off each day those waste products and poisons which, if allowed to accumulate, will be converted by the body's chemistry into fatty tissue.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Chemists, Stores and Bazars.

DO YOU

BELIEVE IN BEAUTY?

Do you remember being asked when you went to see Peter Pan if you believed in fairies? If you said "No"—somewhere a fairy died. So it is with the woman who refuses to believe in Beauty—her beauty fades and dies. If you want to be beautiful, believe in Beauty. Believe, too, that you can achieve beauty however unattractive you may be to-day.

One of the first essentials of true beauty is a clear, unblemished complexion. Given that, all things are possible. In this climate, fair complexions are in the minority. Too many women are content to "let themselves go"—and make our Indian climate an excuse for shrivelled weather-beaten skins. This is so mistaken. You can acquire the velvet-smooth complexions of your Northern sisters so easily. Just bleach away that tan—beneath it lies a new, lovely youthful complexion. It is so easy to do—all you want is an ounce or two of Mercolized Wax from your chemist. Smooth a thin film of this magic wax over face, neck and hands nightly. While you sleep, the wax will absorb the discoloured outer skin. Just give it a brief ten-day trial (if your skin has been very neglected it may take longer) and see how marvellously it improves your appearance. Your complexion is shades lighter—lovely. Once you adopt the wax habit you will never give it up.

Bombay Defence Forces Sabotage Enemy Action

BATTLE ROYAL TO BE STAGED TO-DAY

(From Our "War" Correspondent.)

BOMBAY, Thursday.

To-day's events in mock manoeuvres held in Bombay for the last two days were too thrilling for a sham war.

Great Britain declared War on Wednesday evening against the Maritime Power in view of the reports received that her cruisers were on their way to bombard Bombay. The news of the declaration of War though decided upon at 3-45 p.m. on Wednesday was received in Bombay late in the evening.

Sequel to the declaration of hostilities, the Governor of Bombay authorised the Military, who are in charge of the operations to stop all enemy shipping forthwith.

Ships carrying contraband for the "enemy" were detained in Bombay, while no ship was allowed to enter the Harbour. Also no ship was allowed to sail from Bombay. Other incoming ships have been informed by wireless to go to other Ports.

Broadcast messages have been despatched from the Santa Cruz Wireless Station to all the ships that all coastal and Harbour lights would be extinguished, in view of the hostilities.

ENEMY 'PLANE AT BAY.

While there was no news of the enemy cruisers till Wednesday evening, the defence force, which had been on the vigil to give battle to the "enemy' was kept busy all through the night. During the night, the Air Force in charge of fortress lights was kept busy by alarms, as two small crafts did not comply with the new emergency regulations. But it turned out these two crafts were not aware of the state of affairs.

Early this morning, report was received at the Head Quarters that an enemy Seaplane had been spotted over the Bassien Fort. News of this which was broadcast was immediately picked up by a ship in the sea which tried to fire at the Sea Plane But the Sea Plane managed to escape undamaged.

FRONTIER MAIL INCIDENT

Immediately after, another report was received that the enemy 'plane was hovering near about the Bassien Bridge with a view to stop train connection with Bombay by blowing the Bridge.

But the Air Force [illegible] immediate action [illegible]

ceived information in the course of the morning that there was riot of a civil mob, who destroyed a neutral camp at Mulund, seizing arms, ammunition and clothing. A few hours later, it was reported that many of these. about 50 in number, left the place in military uniform, which they had seized. The Officer Commanding Salsette reported the General headquarters, that in all probability, they were on their way to either Thana, Pavai or Bhayandar. Later information was received that the Chlorination station had been destroyed. This is believed to be the act of the 50 rioters who escaped from Mulund.

Information was received that Cable communication with Aden was interrupted at 11-15 this morning presumably by the 'enemy'.

Although the weather in Bombay was good, at sea, it was reported to be distinctly hazy, and this accounted for the enemy not having been sighted before.

The Royal Indian Navy under the command of Rear Admiral A. E. F. Bedford have had a most strenuous time The continual watch for the enemy, [illegible] to delay the attack with the haze was [illegible] Motor Boats, etc.

Mount Mary High School & Orphanage

The Mount Mary High School and Orphanage at Bandra, which celebrates this year its Silver Jubilee, it will be interesting to note, was born of a tragedy. In November 1910 the Franciscan Sisters were banished by order of the Portuguese Republic of Goa and their belongings were confiscated. The Sisters had to look for refuge wherever charity offered it to them. Some proceeded to Bellary and Cochin while a batch of three came up to Bombay and by the courtesy of the clergy and the Wardens of the St. Andres' Church, Bandra, they settled down in Bandra and opened a needle work school in a bungalow attached to the Mount Mary Chapel. To-day, the institution is a full-fledged High School and Orphanage numbering 33 Sisters, 145 orphans, 104 boarders and 47 day scholars. The accommodation consists of five spacious buildings. Ideally situated in surroundings of great natural beauty on the summit of Mount Mary's Hill and commanding an enchanting view of the sea and the City of Bombay.

Bombay's Health

Though the quarterly report of the Executive Health Officer, ending 30th September 1935, shows a slight decrease in deaths, influenza, malaria and allied diseases have taken their usual toll. The number of deaths from all causes during the quarter was 7,016 as against 7,647 in the corresponding quarter of 1934. Small Pox caused 134 deaths of which the imported cases were 12. Cholera caused 8 deaths. Influenza accounted for 28 deaths as against 25 the average of the corresponding quarters of 10 years. The number of deaths from enteric fever was 74, being 10 less than during the corresponding quarter of the last year. Malaria and remittent fevers caused 384 deaths being 18 more than the last quarter. There were 33 deaths from cerebro spinal meningitis during the quarter, viz., 14 in July, 4 in August and 15 in September and all of them were sporadic. Deaths among the infants were 2,172 as against 2,149 of the last quarter.

DEFENCE ARGUMENTS CONCLUDED IN "ENTICEMENT" CASE

Defence arguments were concluded on Thursday before Mr. I. S. Haji, Presidency Magistrate, Mazgaon, at the resumed hearing of the case in which R. N. Kapoor, a Punjabi share-broker, is charged with enticing or taking away, detaining and committing adultery with a married girl named Mrs. Ranganayaki.

Arguments for prosecution had just commenced, when the Court rose for the day.

Mr. C. N. Acharya appeared for the prosecution, while Mr. A. R. Gadkari assisted by Mr. Vyavaharkar, defended the accused.

Referring to the evidence given by the priest in the case, Mr. Gadkari remarked that the mere giving of the to and fro expenses by the brother of the accused to the witness should not discredit his evidence. The Court had to consider carefully whether the [illegible]

INDIAN INTERESTS FIRST

The Special Indian Tariff Board has released for publication the various memoranda submitted to it by the Bombay Mill-owners' Association, the Ahmedabad Mill-owners' Association, the various Chambers of Commerce and other business organizations in the country and by the Lancashire Textile Delegation. The gist of the various Indian memoranda is that the present scale of duties on British imports should be at least retained, and that on certain British textiles it must be appreciably raised, whereas the Lancashire delegation, naturally thinking of its own interests first and foremost, urges a uniform reduction in the existing uniform 25 per cent. "ad valorem" duty on cotton piece-goods. The circumstances in which the Tariff Board has been appointed, its composition, the Government's growing solicitude for British interests, the continued boosting of the Ottawa policy and Lancashire's recent propaganda, all these facts justify the fear that Lancashire's representation may receive far more consideration here than it deserves. It is, therefore, necessary for Indian business bodies to be most vigilant and to subject the Lancashire Delegation's memorandum to rigorous criticism in the press and elsewhere.

Tariff Board and bolsters them up with more preposterous arguments.

Untenable View

The Lancashire Delegation approaches the question from an utterly untenable point of view which, however helpful to Britain, wholly ignores the just claims of India. It seems to think that the Government of India ought to help Britain about as much as India and that they must not levy such duties as will make British goods dearer in the Indian market than indigenous goods—that, in plain language, is the substance of all the jargon about "the establishment of the equation of fair selling prices"—or will deprive Lancashire of "fair" or "healthy" competition with India. And merely because under the recent tariff the Indian textile industry has made some progress while Lancashire has not, the Delegation makes it a grievance and regards it as proof positive of the injustice of the tariff. It says: "We submit that the severe diminution in our trade in recent years and the expansion of the Indian industry, taken together, supply the most convincing proof that the tariff has in fact put the selling prices of United Kingdom goods en- out of relation with those

MEDICAL INSPECTION IN SCHOOLS

Foremost Responsibility Of The State

(By ABDUL HAMEED, M.D.)

The aim of this series of articles is to give a clear conception of the health of school children attending Primary and Secondary Schools in Bombay, and the system of Medical inspection and Treatment followed in the schools.

Our present system of elementary education is faulty as great stress is laid on the education imparted and very little attention is paid to the health and physical condition of children attending schools. No separate arrangement is made for teaching children according to their mental and physical capacity but an attempt is made to mould all children of one class into one cast without taking into consideration the individual mental and physical capacity. Above all, no attempt is made to correct the mental and physical defects in the school children to enable them to take greater advantage of the imparted education.

State's Responsibility.

It is the duty of the state to make an earnest and wholehearted attempt to make a healthy and strong nation instead of crippled members unable to fight the struggle for existence and unable to defend their country. Economically it is not advisable only to make arrangements for education and to leave the physical defects uncorrected which prevent the children from taking full advantage of it. With the advance of civilisation and industrialisation of the country it is equally of utmost importance to produce intelligent and able-bodied men to cope with the work instead of physically defective men unable to compete and insufficiently educated to swell the number of the unemployed. Greater attention should be paid to the national importance of healthy child-hood, as it is the most important period in life to lay a strong foundation of health by proper care of body, food and environment to resist the adverse conditions in later years

Nationalist India's Foreign Policy

What Our Newspapers Lack

By SUBASH C. BOSE.

Specially Contributed to "The Chronicle"

I.

As I read in the Indian papers of the demonstrations in sympathy with Abyssinia, I felt gratified to notice that the Indian public were beginning to take more interest in events abroad. What I would now like to see is a sober and scientific study of international events against our Indian back-ground. I should like to emphasise that it is essential for such a study, that we should have our own background. Without such a background, it will be impossible to comprehend the march of events and the deeper significance underlying them. Each country studies international events from its own standpoint and reacts accordingly. Therefore, just as the standpoints vary, so do the reactions of different countries to the same situation vary considerably.

What should be the background of our study? The reply is self-evident. The background must be India and India's national interests. The kaleidoscopic whirl of events have to be projected on the Indian background and then analysed.

When we are able to study international events scientifically in the above manner, we shall then be able to pass judgment on them as "favourable" or "unfavourable" for India.

The Experts

To do this, namely, to study world-events and pass judgment on them requires a special skill and training. Not many people have either the ability or the experience to undertake this work. It requires specialisation. Every country has its own specialists or experts, who practically dictate to the Foreign Office of that country along what lines the foreign policy of that state should be shaped. Some of these experts are officials —generally attached to the ...ffice—but many are non-...nalists or authors or ...e advice is eagerly ...Government and ...inion the means ed at once of the role that Lawrence once played in Arabia or which Philby is now playing in Saudi Arabia. I think that of all the European countries, Great Britain can boast of the largest number of such non-official experts. One has only to see the large number of books and journals that are published in Great Britain dealing exclusively with foreign politics, in order to realise the truth of what I say. The result of this is that on every conceivable "foreign" problem there is a group of experts available in Great Britain who can furnish you with all necessary information and guidance. And the average Britisher sitting peacefully at his fire-place can keep himself fully informed of what is happening or likely to happen in Sarajevo, Timbucktoo or Vladivostock—or what is the nature of the Croatian problem in Jugoslavia, the Catalonian problem in Spain, the Macedonian problem in Bulgaria or the Kurdish problem in Iraq. To educate the public in the intricacies of foreign politics, it has now become customary for every important paper in Europe and America to have an expert in foreign affairs as the "Foreign Editor" of the paper. These "Foreign Editors" generally write under their own names and anything that they say has a special significance. In this category one could place Garvin (of "Observer") or Weibel (of the "Neue Zurcher Zeitung") or Paul Scheffer (of the "Berliner Tagblatt") or Knickerbocker (of the American Press) or Signor Gayda (of the "Il Giornale d'Italia") Some of them have such wonderful grasp of international politics that they can sometimes predict coming events long in advance. (In this connection I should like to refer to Knickerbocker's book, "Germany Fascist or Soviet," published in 1932, about a year before the Nazi's came to power. When Knickerbocker wrote this book there was such a keen struggle going on between Communists and Nazis that it was difficult for the average man ... would win. Knickerbocker predicted on the basis of facts and figures that the Nazis would win. Last year Knickerbocker published a book called "The Coming War in Europe" in which he said that the next European war would break out within 5 or 10 years.) By virtue of their ability, knowledge and experience these journalists can sometimes play an important political role. For instance, Wickham Steed was one of those who were responsible for persuading the British Government during the Great War that in order to break up the Austro-Hungarian Empire it is necessary to set up Czechoslovakia as an independent state.

Defects Of Indian Newspapers

This brings me to a consideration of the nationalist Indian Press. While I am proud of the achievements of the nationalist Indian Press in other aspects of journalism, I must say that on the foreign side it is frightfully backward. In fact we have not yet reached the stage when we should feel that it is necessary to have a qualified "Foreign Editor"—though most papers have now progressed so far as to have a Commercial Editor, Literary Editor, Sports Editor, etc. Articles in the Indian Press on foreign affairs are often of poor quality and are not always written with a consciousness of the national background. More distressing than the articles are the contributions from outsid... While the pruning knife of the Editorial Staff is carefully applied to internal news and rightly too—in the case of foreign communications, unbridled licence is sometimes given to all sorts of writers as long as they write from abroad. For instance, I have seen in some Indian papers, publicity given to personages who are working abroad against the interests of India and to communications written in opposition to the Indian

"The fundamental principle of Japanese naval policy," we are assured by the Japanese authorities, "is to obtain security."

"Security" in its turn is defined as naval parity with Britain and the United States.

And since these two countries are just launching on an extensive naval programme, in pursuit of security, Japan can only achieve it by joining (with 5 to 3 energy) in the exciting race. So can—and will,—Russia, France, Germany and Italy with the minor fry bringing the rear among the "also-rans."

The moral is as obvious as the story is old. If you have any cash lying idle, lose no time and invest it in a couple of shares in some armaments firm. It is a very very sound—as sound as the crack of doom!—investment.

But we forgot. For you it is not possible, and that is another moral—for India.

This is something which he refused to do as the Finance Member to the Government of India, when he swore by Imperial Preference as if it were gospel.

Whence—and why—this sudden love for Japan?

And echo ironically answers whence and why etc., etc.

Be Proud Of India's Unique Culture

Product Of Commingling Of Hindu And Muslim Civilisations

BHOPAL'S APPEAL TO GRADUATES TO PREACH GOSPEL OF LOVE AND MUTUAL TOLERATION

I look forward to the day when from our country which has ever been the home of religions and philosophies, there will again go forth that gospel of love and mutual toleration which alone can heal the wounds caused by recent conflicts and bringing lasting peace to suffering humanity.

THAT UNIQUE CULTURE

In the above words, His Highness the Nawab of Bhopal, appealed to the graduates of the Allahabad University, in the course of his Convocation address on Thursday, to be justly proud of that "unique culture" born of the commingling of the Hindu and Muslim civilisations, which has given to the world of art a new conception of beauty and to the human soul a new philosophy.

The following are extracts from His Highness' Convocation Address:—

TWO GREAT CIVILIZATIONS.

Gentlemen, I consider myself particularly fortunate to have been connected with two great seats of learning in these Provinces—for us from time immemorial the cradle of civilization. As the waters of the sacred Jamuna mingle with those of the Holy Ganges, so have the streams of two great civilizations—the Hindu and the Muslim—mingled here to produce that unique culture which has given to the world of art a new conception of beauty, and to the human soul a new philosophy. Of this culture we, the sons of India, are justly proud.

NOBLEST OF TASKS.

Whereas in Europe, universities have to deal mostly with one culture and one language, ours have to attempt the solution of intricate problems created by the presence within their walls of those that differ from each other in race, culture, language and religion. In other words, it would not be wrong to say that our universities are in the main, though in a small way, faced with the same problems with which our country as a whole is to-day faced. This to my mind enhances for us their utility and assigns to them the noblest of all tasks—that of bringing real strength through unity to displace those divisions and animosities which, unfortunately, only too often hamper the spiritual and material progress of our motherland.

NOTE OF WARNING.

Here I feel that I must sound a note of warning lest I be misunderstood, and at the same time perpetrate a paradox, for which I crave your indulgence. Whilst I believe earnestly in the utility of universities, I do not believe that they should themselves preach an entirely utilitarian view of life. Idealism, provided it is not extravagant, is one of the most treasured attributes of the human mind, and seems to be in these days the only brake we possess with which to make the attempt to stop the onward rush of humanity towards brutality and mutual destruction.

Gentlemen, to me it has always seemed a debatable point whether the complete secularization of education has not on the whole done more harm than good to society, and whether the time has not now come for us to consider the desirability of openly giving to religion, in the widest sense of the term, its old honoured place in our system of education. This besides being in consonance with the highest traditions of our country would also tend to re-establish in our inner life that harmony which is to-day so woefully absent from it.

WHY THIS IMITATION!

Our universities have to be something more than mere imitations of similar institutions in other lands, and so long as they remain, as I am afraid they are at present, shyly conscious of the fact that they are imitations they will not be able to regain that confidence in themselves without which they cannot become for us real sources of inspiration. Let us not forget that education is so organic a part of a nation's life that systems transplanted from other countries can never be anything more than exotic creations, and that a university that does not reflect correctly the best culture of her surroundings is doomed to dwindle into insignificance and, finally, to wither away like a plant that has failed to take root in the soil in which it was planted.

ON THRESHOLD OF GREAT CHANGES.

We in India stand to-day on the threshold of great changes, and it is time that we made a comprehensive survey of our present system of education and took steps to effect those modifications which we consider necessary to ensure the best results. Bigger opportunities of serving our country are to be offered to the young men of this generation and of succeeding generations than were offered to their predecessors, and in this test only those can prove successful who possess large hearts, high ideals and clear visions.

"UNNATURAL."

In planning the system of education hitherto followed by us we seem to have unconsciously reserved the accepted order of things by trying to impart to our students a better knowledge of that which is far away than of that which is near them and round them. The majority of our educated young men to-day are apt to know more about the 'cromlechs' found in England than about the 'stupas' found in their own country; more about Chaucer and Tennyson than about Kalidas and Ghalib; and strangest of all more about the English language than about their own mother tongue! Ours is almost the only country in the world where educated people find it easier to express themselves in a language which is neither their mother tongue nor even one of the languages of their own country! All this is unnatural, and has to be changed if the bases of our national life are to be strengthened.

FOR MUTUAL SYMPATHY.

Situated as we are, for no people is a careful study of their past as necessary as it is for us. Without it we can neither understand our present environment nor mould for ourselves a great future based on a sympathetic understanding of the origins and cultural contributions of the different races inhabiting our vast country. Mutual understanding alone will create mutual sympathy and bring in its wake that healthy patriotism which, without being aggressive or offensive, will remove for all time from our path the obstacles to-day offered by narrow sectarianism and differences of castes and creeds. Our contribution to the general happiness of mankind will be great if we can show how it is possible for human beings, differing from each other in language, race and religion, to live together as one people united in the service of their motherland.

GOSPEL OF LOVE

Gentlemen, I look forward to the day when from our country, which has ever been the home of religions and philosophies, there will again go forth into a distracted world, for the second time in our long history, that gospel of love and mutual toleration which alone can heal the wounds caused by recent conflicts and bring lasting peace to suffering humanity.

PHYSICAL CULTURE

Turning to another aspect of life in our universities, I have been forced to come to the conclusion that our students as a whole do not pay as much attention to their physical well-being as those in other countries. This is probably due to the fact that we in the East have been inclined to look upon games and other similar pastimes as something befitting only children, and, consequently, beneath the dignity of young men in search of knowledge. Then to make matters worse, at no stage in the process of education have we made adequate arrangements for teaching to our students those principles of hygiene and those methods of protecting themselves against diseases which in other countries are known even to young boys still at school.

I have no hesitation in saying that personally I have learnt more on cricket fields and polo grounds how to face the difficulties of life than in class rooms, for, to keep smiling and to continue doing your best when you feel that all the odds are against you and your side is losing, is morally as great a discipline as any that can be taught by lectures.

VALUE OF TEAM WORK

To you young men, who are leaving this university to-day, I say: Carry this team work also into the life that now lies before you. Go into the bigger world outside and, if you wish to render real service to our country, preach to all this doctrine of co-operation. Tell our countrymen that nothing that is to endure can ever be built on foundations of hatred and distrust, which, as purely destructive forces, can lead us nowhere. I assure you that at no juncture in our history was this spirit of co-operation more necessary than to-day, when the whole world is watching us to see what use we make of the opportunity to shape the destiny of our land which is now beginning to be offered to us by a radical change in our system of government.

SUBSTANTIAL ADVANCE?

Unfortunately there is a sharp difference of opinion in our country with regard to these constitutional reforms. This was only to be expected in such a complex situation as ours, and should not disappoint us or make us adopt the purely negative attitude of belittling the result of an earnest attempt to solve one of the most difficult problems with which statesmanship has been faced in modern times. These reforms are by no means perfect. No one has ever put forward that claim. But what I do maintain is that they are not as wholly bad as some would have us believe. No critic, however severe, who studies them dispassionately can seriously make the statement that in the sum total they do not represent a substantial advance. We wish they could have gone much further, but the undoubted difficulties that at present lie in the way cannot be ignored—difficulties for many of which, I am sorry to say, we have only ourselves to blame. To have ignored hard facts would have been of no help, for the best way to overcome them is always to face them boldly. In politics, as in many other spheres of life, one has to be prepared for compromise to achieve great results. If one cannot get the best, one must be ready to accept the second best. In the case of these reforms I feel confident that, given the necessary sincerity of purpose, we shall succeed in effectively overcoming that which to-day seems to us insurmountable.

FUTURE OF STATES

So far as we of the States are concerned, rest assured that, as in the past so in the future, we shall ever consider it the greatest of all privileges to give of our very best to the building up of that greater India for which we are all longing.

The whole world is just now passing through extremely difficult times, and a supreme effort is necessary if we are to save ourselves from falling into that quagmire of political and economic uncertainties from which so many other nations are to-day trying in vain to extricate themselves. It is up to you, young men, as the custodians of the future of our country, to make this effort, and in this you will succeed only if you keep before you the motto of all true sportsmen: Be fair to every one and always chivalrous to the weak.

CENTRAL ACT FOR SANCTIONS

Assembly To Enact Law To Replace Ordinance

CONSTABLES RUN AMOK

Several Persons Injured In Scuffle

CALCUTTA: Dec. 5.

A message from Natore says that a serious riot took place on the Natore Railway Station among a large number of constables belonging to the Bakerganj Range, as a result of which, the station room had to be closed.

It transpires that the constables were being detained there on special duty in connection with the journey of His Excellency the Viceroy from Kalimpong to Calcutta. Several persons, including one assistant sub-inspector, who attempted to pacify the rioters, were injured.

The cause of the riot is not known.—United Press.

Peshawar, December 4.—A deputation on behalf of the Hindi-Gurmukhi defence committee will wait upon the Governor on December 11, in connection with the transferred department's circular on the subject of media of instruction in the Frontier primary schools.—A. P.

LATHI CHARGE ON STUDENTS

Sequel To Demonstration Against Two Papers Daily At Exams.

LAHORE, Dec. 5.

The several months' agitation against the decision of the Punjab University to hold two papers daily instead of one as heretofore during the University examination came to a head to-day when three thousand students from different colleges demonstrated in front of the senate and took out a mock funeral procession which was dispersed by police after a mild lathi charge in which about half a dozen persons were slightly injured.

ALLEGED ROWDISM.

The Students Union decided yesterday to send a deputation to the Vice-Chancellor on the subject of their complaint. They accordingly gathered outside the Senate, but it is stated that the Vice-Chancellor declined to receive the deputation. Resenting this, the students are alleged to have broken the glass-panes of the Senate building, and marched to the Government College carrying before them on a charpoy (cot) a figure purporting to be an effigy of the Vice-Chancellor shouting, "down with the University and down with the Vice-Chancellor".

The processionists entered the Government College where they again demonstrated inviting the students to leave their classes.

LATHIS USED

On receipt of this information a hundred armed lathi police arrived at the College where the demonstrators were holding a meeting. The students again attempted to march in procession to other colleges but the police intervened and asked them to disperse and on their refusal, and in view of the fact that they were disobeying orders under Section 144, which is in force in Lahore, they were dispersed after a mild lathi charge.—A.P.

PETROL SHOP REDUCED TO ASHES

LAHORE, Dec. 5.

A message from Bahraich states that a fire broke out in a petrol shop which was all ablaze in no time enveloping the entire locality in dense clouds of smoke.

The conflagration is stated to have started from a petrol tank into which tins of petrol were being emptied when somebody lighted a match stick near the sucking pump which ignited. The flames spread to the shop and later to the whole building in which mobil oil and other motor accessories were stocked. The fire abated its fury only when all contents of the shop were reduced to ashes.

There was no loss of life but property estimated at Rs. 10,000 was destroyed.—A. P.

CLASH AVERTED AT 'PINDI

RAWALPINDI, Dec. 4.

What might have developed into a serious clash between the Sikhs and the Muslims, was averted by the timely action of Police.

It is stated that a party of Muslims objected to an announcement being made in the vicinity of a mosque by the beat of drum about the holding of a Sikh Diwan. In the scuffle that ensued, it is alleged, the Kirpan of the drum-announcer was snatched.

A Muslim Honorary Magistrate intervened as also police and averted a clash. In view of the incident, armed police are posted at strategic points, while mounted police are patrolling the city.

The situation is quiet now.—A.P.

To meet the Hon. Lady Sifton the Maharani Saheba of Hathuwa will give a purdha party on December 10 at her Patna residence.

Abyssinians Plan Attack On Big Scale

March On Makalle Fully Armed With Rifles And Machine-guns

ASMARA, Dec. 4.

A strong Abyssinian force, including units of the Emperor's own army, marching towards Makalle, has been already sighted by Italian advance posts.

It is stated that the Abyssinians are well-armed with rifles, machine guns and artillery of modern type.

It is believed that an Abyssinian attack on a big scale is imminent.—Reuter's Extra Special.

BASIS FOR SETTLEMENT

Laval Seeks Duce's View-Point On Suggestions

PARIS, Dec. 5.

Roughly outlined suggestions of what France and Britain consider may form possible basis of a settlement of the Abyssinian War were given to Signor Cerruti by M. Laval yesterday afternoon, according to well-informed circles. The object of the suggestions was to elicit some indications of Il Duce's viewpoints in time for the meeting between Sir Samuel Hoare and M. Laval on Saturday.

Though M. Laval is reported to have emphasised that these are the last suggestions that could be made before the Geneva oil embargo meeting, yet Rome reports are pessimistic that the suggestions stand any chance of a favourable reply from Il Duce.

It is believed that the suggestions followed the main lines of previous conversations, including Italian cession of the Port Assab to Abyssinia together with a strip of territory whereon a railway, to be superintended by the League, could be built from Addis Ababa to Assab, while Abyssinia would cede to Italy the whole of Ogaden and permit important rectification on Tigre and Hara frontiers with the return of Aksum and Adowa to Abyssinia. With regard to Abyssinia proper, it is believed the proposals of the Committee of fifteen at Geneva are repeated.—Reuter's Extra Special.

COLD RECEPTION TO DE BONO

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

ROME, Dec. 4.

General de Bono conqueror of Adowa and Makalle, arrived on Italian soil without any public demonstration, while his arrival was not noticed by the press.

The General was met by the local authorities at Syracuse but no plans have been announced for his reception when he reaches Rome to-morrow.

LEAGUE NO BAR TO WORK FOR UNITY

Move To Seek Geneva Recognition For Irish Independence Fails

LONDON, Dec. 4.

A resolution demanding that the Free State Government should claim from the League of Nations recognition of Ireland's independence and if this is not accorded the Free State should withdraw from Geneva, was heavily defeated in the Fianna Fail Convention held in Dublin.

Another resolution commending the Free State Government's policy was carried with one dissentient vote.

Mr. De Valera declared that if their membership of the League did not help, it did not prevent their working for unity and independence of their country.

Mr. De Valera replying to a question in the Dail said that rumours of negotiations between the Governments of Great Britain and Irish Free State were without any foundation.—Reuter.

ANGLO-AMERICAN PACT NEGOTIATIONS

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4.

Mr. Cordell Hull revealed to-day that preliminary exchanges had occurred in connection with the negotiations for an Anglo-American trade pact, but these were hitherto merely exploratory owing to the disturbed state of the world.

It is understood that the management of the Patna City Municipality which was supersaded over three years ago will be made over to the citizens of Patna on April 1 next and the local Government has fixed February 29, for general election to the Municipal Board.

New Book Tends To Embitter Communal Feelings

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

LONDON, Dec. 5.

According to the correspondent of the "Daily Telegraph" Miss Katharine Mayo's new book "The Face of Mother India" published by Hamish Hamilton tends to intensify the antagonism between Hindus and Muslims instead of softening it.

It will not smooth on the path of the new reforms.

The correspondent says, Miss Mayo's sympathies are very frankly with Mohamedans.

U. S. AGRICULTURAL ADJUSTMENT ACT

Govt. Prepared To Meet Verdict Of Supreme Court

(SPECIAL CABLE.)

CHICAGO, Dec. 5.

"No matter what party is in power, something like an Agricultural Adjustment Act will continue." This important statement has been made by Mr. Wallace, Secretary for Agriculture, with reference to the forthcoming decision of the United States Supreme Court on the legality of the present Act.

Mr. Wallace declared that any decision would be received calmly by the Administration. Should processing taxes be declared unconstitutional, no less than eight alternatives would be available, including the sales tax, higher income tax and compulsory control over production.

Congress Jubilee Celebrations

Dr. DESHMUKH'S APPEAL TO INDIAN OFFICIALS

Our Readers' Views

To The Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—The representative meeting of the citizens of Bombay that was held on Wednesday evening to consider the steps to be taken to celebrate the Golden Jubilee of the Congress in Bombay shows that our city fully realizes the great national importance of the Jubilee and is prepared to celebrate it in a manner worthy of it. It was made quite clear at the meeting as it has been made quite clear by the President of the Congress that this is a celebration in which the co-operation of every Indian, whatever his political view, will not only be welcome but is necessary and for this simple reason that whatever political progress India has made hitherto is due mainly, if not solely, to the work done by the Congress during the last fifty years. In this work, those who are the Liberals of to-day have had a share. Nor can it be denied that those who have reaped personal benefit as a result of the political progress achieved by the Congress owe it to the latter to pay a tribute to it by participating in the celebration of its Jubilee or by helping to make it a great success. As you say, all those Indians who have occupied or are occupying highly paid jobs as Executive Councillors, Ministers and members of the various public services, owe their preferment to the work of the Congress. Therefore, they should, in sheer gratitude, participate in the Jubilee celebrations or at least contribute to their success. The Liberal Federation is meeting at Nagpur on December 28, the day of the Jubilee celebration, and the Hindu Mahasabha is meeting in Poona about the same time, the Subject Committee meeting on the 28th instant. May I appeal to the organisers to postpone the dates of the sessions of the Federation and the Mahasabha so as to enable those who will attend them to participate in the Jubilee celebration of the Congress in their own cities and towns? The 28th December should be consecrated to a national gathering on non-party lines in every city, town and village.—Yours, etc.,

G. V. DESHMUKH.

APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Delhi Advocate To Represent "Riyasat" Case

HOSHANGABAD CITY, Dec. 5.

In pursuance of the orders of the Judicial Commissioners, Mr. Neogi, and Mr. Gruer, Sardar Diwan Singh of the "Riyasat" surrendered to bail to-day before the District Magistrate who entrusted him to jail custody to serve a reduced term of three months' rigorous imprisonment.

Sardar Diwan Singh was placed in "A" Class.

Steps have been taken to file an appeal before the Privy Council, Mr. B. B. Tawakley, Advocate of Delhi, is leaving almost immediately for this purpose.—A.P.

3 Months For Breach Of Prohibitory Order

LAHORE, December 5.

Ahmed Hassan arrested yesterday near Gurdwara Derasaheb was sentenced to-day to 3 months' imprisonment under section 188 for disobeying the order of the Magistrate prohibiting the carrying of knives.

The court held that the accused was moving in a suspicious manner in the neighbourhood of the said Gurdwara, when there was so much communal tension, carrying a knife with a blade 10 1|2 inches long.—United Press.

SIKHS TO APPEAL TO VICEROY?

Sirdar Mangalsingh's Move To Get Ban On Kirpans Removed

(From Our Special Correspondent)

NEW DELHI, December 4.

Sardar Mangal Singh, M.L.A., and member of the Executive Committee of the Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee, is here and hopes to meet Sir Henry Craik, the Home Member, to-morrow to appraise him of the Sikh and Hindu points of view in the Punjab over the present situation and especially over the 'Kirpan' question.

It seems the Sikhs' plan of action is first to approach the Governor of the Province on the 'Kirpan' question and failing redress to seek an interview with the Viceroy.

"MISCHIEF OF SEPARATE ELECTORATE"

The report of the Lahore meeting of leaders, who recommended withdrawal of the coming Reforms from the Punjab, has reached here, but varying interpretations are put on the resolution. Apparently, the view of those who passed the resolution was that separate electorates were responsible for the communal outlook and as they are the basis of the future Constitution, minority interests would not get a fair deal.

The authorities here are watching the situation in the Punjab very closely and are satisfied that measures taken to maintain Law and Order are on correct lines and that the Punjab Government is handling the situation tactfully.

FEDERAL HOUSING PROBLEM

Heads Of Central Govt. Departments To Confer

NEW DELHI, December 5.

Though it may take four years for the Federal Government to be established, the housing problems in this connection have already begun to occupy the attention of the Government of India. The urgency of considering the problem in some detail has been necessitated by the fact that the Federal Court will begin to function at least simultaneously with the establishment of Autonomy in the Provinces. Other questions like the housing of the Statutory Railway Authority and Financial and other Technical advisers to Government have also to be decided at an early date.

CONFERENCE AT DELHI

The 'Associated Press' understands that a conference of the heads of all departments of the Government of India will be held in the Imperial Secretariat on 9th December at which the requirements of each department by way of housing accommodation, both during the transitional stage and after the establishment of the Federal Government, will be discussed. It is not known, however, whether the Conference next week will discuss fully the accommodation problems only for New Delhi or also for Simla. Presumably the intention to settle all the preliminaries for the construction of the Federal High Court building and residences for the Judges thereof and the new buildings required for offices of financial and other technical officers in New Delhi and afterwards the question of similar accommodation in Simla is pending the ascertainment of opinion in this respect.

CAPITAL EXPENDITURE

While, in the case of certain few departments, additional requirements might perhaps be met by alterations or additions involving not much expenditure, the requirements of the Federal Legislature with over 600 members as against the present 200 might necessitate the launching of heavy capital expenditure. Particularly for residences of the members of both the Houses.

Sir Frank Noyce, Member for Industries and Labour will preside at the Conference at which, besides the Secretaries of the various departments, there will be experts present.—A.P.

CASE AGAINST CENTRAL BANK

Shamdasani's First Charge In Court

That the dividends were paid otherwise than out of the profits, was the statement made by Mr. Shamdasani in the course of his opening address before Mr. I. S. Haji, Presidency Magistrate, Mazagaon, on Thursday, in one of the six cases in which Sir Hugh Cocke and three others of A. F. Fergusson and Co. and S. B. Billimoria, auditors Central Bank of India, are charged with issuing certificates on false balance-sheet.

He strongly criticised the practice of keeping the "secret reserve fund" which, he held, was 'ultra vires' of the directors and stated that it was to that end the prosecution would try to prove its case.

Summonses were ordered to be issued against the several witnesses in the case by the Magistrate at the close of Mr. Shamdasani's address and the further hearing of the case was fixed on January 16.

Mr. Velinker appeared for the respondents.

Standing Committee Approves Grant For Bombay Schools

The Municipal Standing Committee at its meeting on Thursday further considered the budget estimate for 1936-37 and recommended that a sum of Rs. 32,00,000 be granted to the Municipal Schools' Committee, as against Rs. 32,67,000, budgetted in the estimate.

MALAVIYA WELCOMES JAPANESE POET

BENARES, Dec. 5.

Prof. Neguchi, the famous Japanese Poet, has arrived here from Calcutta. He visited the Hindu University to-day and was given a warm welcome by Pandit Malaviya and the Professors of the University.

Panditji took Poet Neguchi round the University and showed him all the departments.

In the evening Poet Neguchi addressed the students and staff of the Hindu University in the Shivaji Hall.

He is staying at Sarnath.—United Press.

CONGRESS VICTORY AGAIN

Allahabad Municipal Election Results

(From Our Correspondent).

ALLAHABAD: Dec. 5.

Congress came out with flying colours in the local Municipal elections, which were keenly contested. The counting of votes took place to-day of three wards only, and the results were declared in the evening.

From Ward No. 3 all the five Congress candidates 'en bloc,' including Messrs. Lal Bahadur, Shastri, Mohanlal, Gautam and Mr. A. Dutt were declared successful, beating their opponents by substantial majorities.

From another ward Mr. Trijugi Narain Sapru, Bar-at-Law, son of Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru was elected with Congress support.

One Harijan candidate, set up by the Congress, suffered defeat.

The result was received with great enthusiasm; a large crowd collected in the Court premises and Congressmen announced the results throughout the City to the accompaniment of the Congress-flags.

The results of the remaining three wards will be declared to-morrow, as the counting of votes in these wards could not take place to-day.

MYSORE AND FEDERATION

MADRAS: Dec. 5.

"It now seems fairly settled that notwithstanding a few voices raised here and there against it, we are going to have a Federation of Indian States and what is called, British India. When that Federation materializes, there is no doubt that the contribution the State of Mysore makes to its future prosperity, will be of a very high order," observed Rt. Hon. Srinivasa Sastri, unveiling a portrait of the Maharaja of Mysore this morning.

TRAINING IN JOURNALISM

Malaviya May Set Up Faculty At Benares

(From Our Correspondent.)

ALLAHABAD, Dec. 5.

It is understood that Pandit Malaviya, Vice-Chancellor of the Benares Hindu University is contemplating institution of a faculty of journalism in the Hindu University.

He had recently discussion on the subject with a very eminent Indian journalist who strongly advised him regarding the need of such an institution. Pt. Malaviya desired this journalist to take actual part in the teaching but on account of his pre-occupations perhaps he would not be able to do so.

India Govt's Law Member At Baroda

(From Our Correspondent.)

BARODA, Dec. 5.

Sir N. N. Sirkar, India Government's Law Member, visited Baroda as the guest of Dewan Sir V. T. Krishnamachari.

Interviewed he stated his visit was purely a private one. He visited the Alembic Chemical Works, the Museum, the Picture Gallery, the State Jewellery Central Library and other prominent places. The Judicial Department officers and the Bar Association gave a reception at the Nyayamandir and the members were "At Home" to him.

He is leaving Baroda to-night.

RELIEF FROM INCOME-TAX ASSESSMENT

Businessmen's Representation To Inquiry Committee

The Income Tax Inquiry Committee consisting of Mr. C. V. Ayers and Mr. S. P. Chambers, of the British Inland Revenue Department, and Khan Bahadur J. B. Vacha, Commissioner of Income-Tax, Bombay, commenced their inquiry from December 2 in Bombay at the offices of the Commissioner of Income Tax at Wallace Street.

They considered the memorandum of the Bombay Chamber of Commerce on Saturday, and the memoranda of the Indian Merchants' Chamber and the Bombay Shroff Association on Wednesday.

Mr. A. D. Shroff, Mr. L. R. Tairsee, Mr. D. D. Shroff and Mr. J. N. Mehta represented the Merchants' Chamber while the Shroff Association was represented by Sheth Shivlal C. Shah (Vice-President), Sheth M. A. Parekh, Seth J. M. Shah, Mr. Chunilal V. Modi (Secretary) and Mr. Maneklal A. Mehta, Income-tax adviser to the Association.

RELIEF METHODS

In a written memorandum, they admitted that the exemption limit should be fixed at Rs. 2,000, and in the case of cities even at a higher level, because of the cost of living, as was at present the case with Government servants when transferred to cities. The principle of relief, as it operates in England, should be introduced in the Income Tax Act by defining certain fixed allowances for the number of members in a family to be deducted from the assessable income.

The Association urged the immediate redress of the grievances of the Shroffs or indigenous bankers who are now held liable for assessment for interest paid by them to their depositors, while no such liability rest with the joint stock banks who are required only to submit the names of their depositors with the particulars of interest paid to them.

This they considered as an invidious distinction, and they therefore requested the Committee not to discriminate between the Joint Stock banks and the shroffs. They also asked for the exemption, from tax, of certain "legitimate" business expenses as marriage, Divali expenses, bonus to staff, petty charities, motor and conveyance allowances.

The Committee will hear the representatives of the Maharashtra Chamber of Commerce to-day (Friday)

The Committee heard also the representatives of certain Insurance Companies through the Bombay Chamber of Commerce.

The Committee leave for Karachi on December 9 and return on December 14 and will leave for Nagpur on December 20.

standpoint. This proves that in foreign affairs the journalistic sense is not yet developed in India. At the same time, I must say that an encouraging feature of the present time is the increasing importance that is being given to "our own correspondent" abroad. I would only beg our editors to see to it that these foreign correspondents do not merely perform a space-filling function by writing long columns on some dinner or tea-party or some trivial incident which may satisfy the vanity of certain interested individuals, but has no national importance. Further, where qualified Indian journalists are available, they should be given preference to foreigners. It pains me to find that some Indian papers have foreigners as their paid correspondents in countries, where qualified Indian journalists are available.

While the Indian Press deserves a certain amount of censure for its backwardness in the foreign affairs section, I must say that the blame rests partly with the public as well. A journal has to cater for the tastes and demands of the public. If the public begin to demand a higher standard in the treatment of foreign affairs, the journals are bound to respond to that demand before long. This brings me to the question of how we can educate our public to take a deeper and more intelligent interest in foreign affairs.

What Engineers Can Do For Pedestrian Safety

Footpaths, Safety Islands And Crossing Are Main Needs On Traffic Roads

BOMBAY, Thursday.

The role of the engineer in the prevention of street accidents was the subject of discussion by delegates to the Bombay Engineering Congress this morning.

Mr. A. S. Trollip who read a paper on "Engineering for Road Safety" advanced constructive suggestions whereby the pedestrian could move about without much danger, and the motorist would be given the right of way.

Footpaths And Inspection

Mr. Trollip directed much of his criticism to the deplorable condition of what pass for footpaths.

"It is no use," he said, "forcing people to walk on the pavements, if those that are provided are used for the purposes other than the passage of pedestrians."

The most effective results could however, be obtained by educating the public through the schools and the press to use the footpaths rather than by attempting to compel them to use the footpaths.

Most Serious Problem.

Although the driver and pedestrian may be blamed for most accidents the road engineer realises, Mr. Trollip said, that he must find ways to provide roads on which the drivers will have less opportunity for accidents.

The greatest needs in our cities and towns are, the speaker held. (a) Footpaths for pedestrians only;

(b) properly constructed pedestrial road crossings with safety islands and pavement fences at wide junctions to direct the pedestrian traffic to the pedestrian crossings; and

(c) traffic control and traffic signals on busy roads to secure for the pedestrian a safe opportunity to cross the road.

Importance of Safety Islands

The safety islands played an important part in the reduction of accidents. Recent features had made it easy and even pleasant for the motorist to obey the law and create confidence in the minds of the pedestrians.

Stop signs (white letters and white lines) formed an essential part in the make-up of a modern traffic system, and to be effective should be painted on a strongly contrasting background to afford the maximum visibility. The letters should be of such proportion that they could be read at a good distance. Letters eight feet long by two feet wide can be read at a distance of a hundred yards.

Good street lighting was necessary to fast moving traffic. There were three advantages; it reduced accidents; it enhanced rateable values and there was less crime.

Graded Plan Needed

"If we are to enjoy the use of our roads," the speaker concluded, "Then a graded plan should be worked out, published through the press and gradually put into operation through engineering revision and education."

Messrs. N. V. Modak and B. V. Wagh read the second instalment of the second part of their paper, "Twenty Years' History of Bombay Roads" in the afternoon.

The session then came to an end.

BOMBAY, Thursday.

With reference to the proposed extension of moratorium by the Government of Zanzibar to July, 1936, Sir Purushotamdas Thakurdas, Chairman, the Imperial Indian Citizenship Association has sent the following telegram of protest to the Government of India.

The following cable has been received from Zanzibar by the Association "Government has published a bill extending the moratorium to July 1936."

We consider it very ominous indeed and request the Government to protect Indians against this effort to perpetuate injustice done by the moratorium."

AUSSIE AND INDIAN TEAMS FETED AT TAJ MAHAL

425 Guests Present At W. I. A. A. Dinner In Honour Of Visitors

Four hundred and twenty-five people attended the W. I. A. A. dinner at the Taj Mahal Hotel at which the Australian and Indian teams were honoured guests. It has become fashionable to cut out post prandial orations and those who expected to hear the Yuvaraj of Patiala and Mr. Jack Ryder address the gathering were disappointed when Mr. Ormerod, the President of the W. I. A. A. announced that there would be 'no speechifying.'

The toasts of His Majesty the King and the two teams were enthusiastically drunk by those present. Before the guests responded to the strains of Leon Abbey's Band, Mr. Ormerod stated that the membership of the W. I. A. A. was gaining strength like Johnnie Walker.

A select cabaret programme was provided, every artist from Baby Lani to Ted and Bob Broadway receiving loud applause.

The guests joined in the dancing and the stately figure of the Yuvaraj was seen treading the light fantastic toe. The Australians mingled freely with the guests, exchanging cricket reminiscences. It was past midnight before the gathering dispersed.

EVIL OF DRUG ADULTERATION

Government Decision To End Menace Welcomed

BOMBAY, Thursday.

The Chemists and Druggists Association, Bombay, convened an urgent meeting of their committee to-day (Thursday) to consider the Government's decision to check the evil of adulteration of drugs and Chemicals.

Dr. M. Venkatarao, J.P., the Chairman, expressed satisfaction and thanked Government for solving this most vital problem once for all and hoped that thereby interest of both the traders as well as the consumers would be properly safeguarded.

He, however, felt that the venue of the proposed Central Testing Laboratory should be Bombay, which is the most important centre of that trade and the largest importer in these chemicals, drugs, Pharmaceuticals and Patent Medicines and he was confident that it would be more beneficial to the trade generally. He urged Government to reconsider the matter and establish it in Bombay instead of Calcutta.

He said, that even the representatives of well-known foreign firms were handicapped by the adulteration nuisance and much relief would be felt by them also. He thanked them also for their co-operation and support in fighting out the case.

RESOLUTION.

The committee then passed the following resolution in that connection:—

"The Committee of the Chemists and Druggists Association, Bombay, welcome the Government's decision to check the adulteration of drugs. It was a high time that some practical step was needed to safeguard the interest of both the trade as well as of the Public.

"The Committee while appreciating the Government's decision beg strongly to urge them to change to proposed location of the Central Testing Laboratory of drugs to Bombay, which is the largest importing centre in the Commodities of Chemicals, Drugs and Pharmaceuticals and it would be more beneficial to the trade if the proposed Central Testing Laboratory is changed to this City."

N. Y. COTTON MARKET

New York, Dec 5

Cotton maintained a fairly steady tone with the expansion of export demand a sustaining factor but the uncertainty with regard to the exact amount which the pool might release hampered operations with the result that the advance was checked and prices moved in a narrow margin. However the under-current feeling of bullishness persists in view of the fact that the reduction in acreage is almost certain despite legislative uncertainties.

Trading in March commenced at 11.60 i.e. 1 point lower than previous closing. The market was early hesitant on lower Liverpool cables and some pool selling but thereafter prices recovered on trade and foreign buying with March rising to 11.62. At this level the demand was rather slow.

The New York cotton market finally closed at 11.55 with a decline of 6 points.

LONDON, December 5

The Stock Exchange was generally firm though business was restricted and interest centred in new funding loan and treasury bonds which opened at a slight discount despite over-subscription and closed at a par and 1/16 premium respectively while giltedgeds moved sympathetically.

In commodities rubber was steady, owing to continued good trade and outside buying. Basemetals and copper were firm in sympathy with American advices. Tin was erratic owing to the divergence of views regarding to-morrow's meeting some operators expecting 5 to 10 per cent increase in the quota while others only anticipating agreement for the continuation of restriction.

Wall Street opened steady but was later irregular.

London, Dec 5

3-30 p.m.

General business was quiet but the undertone was favourable. Giltedgeds were firmer after being easier. There was increased buying interest. Markets generally were rather irregular on profit taking.

Late Mr. Bilimoria

Mr. J. M. Bilimoria, Advocate, died on Wednesday. Mr. Bilimoria passed his LL.B. examination in 1908 and had a good practice in the Court of Small Causes at Bombay. He was a Standing Advocate for the Bombay Steam Navigation Co., Ltd., and was an expert in Shipping Law.

A reference to his death was made by the second Judge of the Small Causes Court, Mr. Indernarayan, on Wednesday morning, and a reply was given on behalf of the Bar by Mr. A. S. Devar, President of the Advocates Association.

Prof. N. G. Ranga informs the United Press that throughout Tamil Nadu, Peasants' Conferences will be held at all District Headquarters after the "Peasants' Marches" to the Collectors' Offices are carried out on the 7th of December.

treatment. These people have to go to their work and they cannot take their children to the hospital for treatment and even if they do it one day, they cannot afford to do it from day to day till the treatment is over.

Timely Prevention.

In many cases children with infectious diseases attend schools regularly without taking proper treatment; and thus spread the disease to other innocent healthy children. Pulmonary tuberculosis, scabics, ringworm, mumps, diphtheria etc. require systematic examination to find out children suffering from them, to be isolated and treated at the proper time to prevent any harm being done to other healthy children. Similarly physical defects require early attention and correction before permanent damage is done to the constitution.

A Shocking Illustration.

Apart from infectious diseases and physical defects certain mental conditions necessitate expert medical advice at the proper time to prevent irreparable damage to the future nation. The following well-known instance will show the necessity of labelling weak-minded children before they reach adolescence to avoid degradation and expense to the State.

During the American Revolution, Kallikack a young soldier of good family found a partner in a tavern who was a feeble-minded girl and by her he had a feeble-minded illegitimate son from whom 480 individuals descended; four-fifths of whom being feeble-minded, epileptic or criminal and the women immoral and often prostitutes. Goddard classed 262 of them as definitely feeble-minded, 197 normal and 581 undetermined or doubtful.

In 1779 Martin Kallikack married one of his own social class, a Quakeress from whom were 496 descendants, who mostly became useful, respected and intelligent citizens. A few were alcoholics but none were recorded as mentally defective. The difference between these descendants from the same father but on one side by a mentally defective woman and on the other side by a normal healthy woman is quite evident.

Scattered Business In Shares

Burma Rules Steady

NARROW TRADING MARKET

BOMBAY, Dec. 5.

The local Share Bazar was open to-day for one hour only and with thin attendance there was limited business and prices fluctuated within a narrow range.

At the opening there was some selling in Tata Steel shares and Dfds. were quoted at Rs. 580 but later on prices partially rallied on short covering and Dfds. were quoted at Rs. 585 while Ordinary shares were quoted at Rs. 148/8. There was slightly better enquiry for Bombay Burma shares which ruled very steady.

It was a narrow trading affair with a limited turnover as the general attention of the market is diverted to the cricket match.

NEW YORK COTTON

Bombay, Dec 5

On Wednesday the New York Cotton futures market was easier in the absence of any important buying and also due to unfavourable Liverpool cables and long liquidation. The market opened at a decline of 10 points but recovered 7 points and March was quoted 11.67, the highest level for the day. Later on there was some selling and the market closed at a decline of 9 to 10 points. Spot cotton prices declined 10 points at 12.25c per lb.

The New Orleans market was quiet and closed at a decline of 13 points with spot cotton 13 points down at 12.14c. per lb

Messrs. Chunilal Mehta and Co., have received to-day the following cable information from their Foreign Friends:—

New York.—Market easier on late hedge selling and January selling by Liverpool.

New York.—Small demand for spot cotton. Small business in dry goods owing to uncertainty with regard to continuance of processing taxes and disposal of loan cotton. Pool liquidation continuing. Prefer buying on declines only.

Messrs. Drennan and Co. have received the following cable:—

Messrs. E. J. Schwabach and Co., New York cable:—

Further liquidation of January by the pool absorbed by steady buying by trade. Goods market more active. Purchases around present levels or on any further declines should be made.

Messrs. Patel Brothers have received the following cable:—

Their Liverpool Agents cabled as under:—

Pool selling: Possibility of the Invalidity of the Bankhead Bill checks bulls. Daily News estimate crop as of 1st December, 10,962,000 bales; Journal of Commerce 10,850,000 bales.

Messrs. Bruel and Co., have received the following cable from Messrs. Reynolds and Gibson.

Cotton:—U.S.A. Government future acreage plan assures no overwhelming supply in next year, position therefore sounder and continue to advice purchases.

Copper:—Lately considerable slowing down Standard presently held back by political uncertainties, when dispersed conditions very promising of renewed advance £36.

Rubber:—Additional quotas likely to depress prices until clearer views. 6 5/16.

LIVERPOOL COTTON

BOMBAY, Dec. 5.

The Liverpool cotton futures market open unchanged with March 6.46. In Sakels there was local reaising, adjusting Liverpool straddle differences and there was some Continental selling as the sentiment was unfavourably influenced by reports of Pool Sales in New York and easiness of Egyptian prices. Later on there was straddle buying and trade calling which were offset by realising and small hedging. Prices fluctuated within a range of 4 points and finally closed at a decline of 3 to 1 point. Middling American spot cotton prices advanced one point at 6.68d. per lb.

INDIAN COTTON

East Indian cotton futures market was steady and closed at unchanged prices. At the close January was quoted 5.89, March 5.80 and May 5.77.

EGYPTIAN COTTON

There was some realising in Egyptian cotton. Sakels futures closed at a decline of 7 points to a rise of 5 points with spot cotton 9 points down at 10.23d. Uppers futures were quiet and closed 4 to 2 points down.

ALEXANDRIA MARKET

There was considerable selling pressure which in the absence of any support resulted in a big drop in prices. Sakels futures closed 35 to 39 points down while Ashmouni futures lost 20 to 14 points.

BOMBAY: FRIDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1935.

INDIAN TEAM DISMISSED FOR 163

Two Valuable Wickets Fall For Six Runs

"AUSSIES'" SHAKY START

But They Rally And Make 124 For 2

BOMBAY, Thursday.

More than 40,000 spectators were present to witness the titanic struggle between India and Australia this morning. The visitors who had been held to a draw in the first match by Bombay, took the field reinforced by their best bowlers, Ironmonger and Oxenham.

Many 'wiseacres' who had predicted a defeat for the Aussies, received a rude shock when two valuable Indian wickets fell for six runs.

Amarnath, C. K. Nayudu, and the Yuvaraj of Patiala treated the spectators to some glorious hitting, but against a wily attack they did not last long, with the result that seven wickets were down for 125 runs at the lunch interval.

Ellis, the Australian wicket-keeper who was very resourceful behind the stumps, helped Oxenham to dismiss the dangerous batsmen at the onset. Mair and Leather completed the handiwork by polishing off India's might for the meagre total of 163 runs.

AUSTRALIAN INNINGS

The Australians met with early disaster losing the first two wickets for only 6 runs. Wendell Bill, one of their most reliable bats, was dismissed for 6. This start did not seem bad for the Indians, but the coming in of Ryder and Morrisby changed the whole aspect of the game and set an example in patience and perseverance. They were at the wicket till stumps were drawn for the day and were unbeaten with 54 and 59 runs respectively, thus raising the score to 124 for 2 wickets.

MAIR TAKES 5 WICKETS

There was a Test Match atmosphere about the Esplanade Maidan this morning when the unofficial trial of strength between India and Australia began.

The Yuvaraj won the toss, sending Navle and Wazir Ali to face the Australian attack. Hendry who opened from the Gymkhana end, was rising off the pitch and met with early success when he got rid of Navle off his second ball, Oxenham catching him in the slips.

The first wicket thus fell for two runs and further disaster followed four runs later when Wazir Ali touched a high one from Leather into the safe hands of Hendry. Things looked gloomy when C. K. Nayudu joined Amarnath, who was cautious against the good length bowling. Ryder had three men in the slips for Leather who was swinging dangerously and runs came slowly.

Amarnath got a fluky one through the slips off Hendry which found the boundary and later a neat leg glance brought him another four.

The first decade was now on the board.

Nayudu had 3 runs to his credit when Amarnath had scored 16 by good strokes to leg and by pushing Leather through the slips.

Within half an hour's play Ironmonger took over from Leather at the Bori Bunder end. Nayadu greeted the slow left-hander by pulling him to the on, out of reach of the fielder.

Oxenham's Maiden Over

Another bowling change saw Oxenham take over from Hendry and send down a maiden over to Amarnath. In his next over Amarnath got one away to leg for 4 and 30 was signalled. After a few dull moments Nayudu got his first 4 when he drove Ironmonger through cover and pulled the last ball of his over straight to the screen which found the boundary. A carpet drive off Oxenham gave Amarnath 4 runs which sent up 40.

At the end of an hour's play the Indians had made 56 runs—not a slow rate of scoring against a formidable attack. The half century was hoisted when Nayudu pulled Oxenham to long on and cleverly steered the next one through the gully for 3 runs.

Nayudu's Sixer

The crowd was now roused to a high pitch of excitement when Nayudu lifted the renowned Australian test player, Ironmonger, for a glorious six over the Islam Gymkhana tent and the score mounted to 60.

Amarnath straight drove Oxenham for 4 and appeared to be playing with more confidence when he touched a faster one off Oxenham which Ellis snapped up behind the stumps. Amarnath in partnership with Nayudu had contributed 60 runs for the third wicket, his score was 33 which included 7 boundaries. (66-3-33).

Palia Leaves Early

The Parsi left-hander Palia made a brief stay and without adding anything to the score returned to the pavilion, being snapped up by the alert Ellis off Oxenham in the same over (66-4-0).

Yuvaraj Hits Out

The Yuvaraj of Patiala received an ovation on coming to the wickets. Nayudu sent up 70 by square cutting Ironmonger which found the boundary. The lissom Yuvaraj opened his account with a six when he stepped out and lifted Oxenham to the Princess Mary Gymkhana tent. Facing Ironmonger through cover he added another 3 to send up the eighth decade.

The crowd was delighted to see the Patiala Prince get two quick sixes and a four at the expense of Oxenham. They were clean mighty hits correctly executed and timed to a nicety.

After sending down eight overs, Oxenham made way for Mair, the googly exponent and the Yuvaraj welcomed the change by lifting Mair over the Gymkhana screen for a glorious six and repeating the dose two balls later. The crowd was now in high glee when soon after the century was hoisted, 110 was signalled.

Rapid Scoring

The scoring was now at the very rapid pace of a run a minute when another change in the bowling was wrung, Leather replacing Ironmonger.

After a hectic display Mair claimed the Yuvaraj's wicket. Clean bowling him for 40. During his 30 minutes stay he had hit five "sixes" and one "four." (114-5-40).

Nayudu who was playing a subdued innings was joined by Lall Singh and got a brace off Leather at leg, only to succumb to the last ball which he mis-timed and was clean bowled. His score of 36 took him exactly a hundred minutes and he had to his credit one "sixer" and four boundaries. (116-6-36).

Amar Singh Dismissed

Amarsingh pulled Mair clean over the school tents for six when he joined Lall Singh. The next ball he lifted for 2 and then Mair beat him by shattering his wickets. (125-7-8).

Play After Lunch

Seven minutes after resumption with Mubarak Ali facing Mair, the Australians got another cheap wicket, the Lahore Muslim bat touching one which found safe repose in the hands of Hendry before a single run was added. (125-8-0).

Amir Elahi broke his duck with a singe off Mair on coming to the crease next. Lall Singh with a powerful drove through cover found the boundary and 130 was hoisted. He lifted Leather dangerously near the bowler and ran out two and never once gave the impression that he was happy against the speed-merchant.

Pulling Mair to the leg boundary the Sikh player got his second four which sent up 140.

Ironmonger came on again vice Leather and kept Amir Elahi guessing with some dangerous spins. A boundary off Amir Elahi's bat for 4 and another hefty six off Mair over the Gymkhana roof sent up 150. It was a pity that the young Muslim did not last longer at the wickets for he played one on to his wicket when Mair sent down a wrong'un. (155-9-14).

Lall Singh stepped out and clouted Ironmonger to the country which travelled to the boundary. He then pulled another one out of the reach of Ryder for 4 and sent up 160.

Nissar who joined Lall Singh could not resist the temptation to hit Mair and in doing so he mishit and skied a ball which Oxenham accepted at cover. The Indian innings came to a close at 2-40 p.m. the total being 163.

EARLY REVERSE FOR AUSSIES

At 2-55 p.m. Wendell Bill and Hendry came out to open the Australian innings. Nissar operated from the Bori Bunder end and his first ball, an awkwardly rising one was touched by Wendell Bill and the ball went past the Yuvaraj for a single.

Amar Singh sent down a maiden over. Early sensation then followed for the third of Nissar's expresses broke Hendry's wicket when the score had reached 2. (2-1-0).

Morrisby was the next man in and he opened his account by hooking Nissar to leg for 2, another 4 off the same bowler sent up the first decade. Wendell Bill with a well-timed square cut found the boundary off Amar Singh and played on to his own wicket off the last ball. (16-2-6).

The Australian skipper was cheered when he joined Morrisby at the wickets.

Morrisby clumped Amar Singh for a single and the second decade was signalled at the end of half an hour's play.

The All-India bowling was definitely dangerous, Nissar sending them down with his old fire and he repeatedly beat the bat. Ryder was uneasy though he cocked a ball behind the wicket. Morrisby got 12 runs off Amar Singh in his next over, two boundries and a well timed square cut brought him the runs. The score reached 40 when Ryder turned Nissar to the boundary.

Ryder was slowly playing himself in and pulled one from Nissar for 4.

PALIA'S LOST CHANCE.

Two quick changes in the bowling were affected Mubarak Ali and Amir Elahi replacing the opening pair. Ryder pulled one within easy reach of Palia, who did not attempt to get upto it and the ball found the boundary. This was a glorious chance missed of dismissing the Australian Skipper. Ryder now was scoring at a faster rate and drove Mubarak Ali first to the Gymkhana and pulled the next one for 4 sending 60 up on board. At the tea interval the score was 68.

Nissar was brought on again after the tea interval and Morrisby who was playing in a confident and easy fashion hoisted 70 with a brace on the offside.

RYDER'S SECOND LIFE.

Ryder got his second life when he was tempted out by one of Amir Elahi's slows, Navle missing the ball with Ryder well out of the crease. His score was 32 and he celebrated this let off by driving Nissar to the screen in his next over. Eighty was then signalled off a single.

Scoring slowed down for a spell and gathering runs in occasional singles the pair increased the total to 90.

RYDER GETS FIFTY.

The first century for the Australians was hoisted when Ryder pulled Amarnath to the ropes for 4. His contribution now was 50 which he had compiled in 70 minutes. His play in front of the wickets was always of a high order and many of his runs came from his fine carpet drives which had plenty of power behind them.

Amarnath and Mubarak Ali were brought on but they met with no success and another double change in the attack was effected by Palia and Nissar. Morrisby greeted Nissar's first delivery by square cutting him for 4 and reached his individual 50 when the score board read 120. Morrisby had been batting for a little over 100 minutes and gave a brilliant display chiefly characterised by superb ground strokes. Coming in soon after the sensational dismissal of Hendry, he patiently bided his time and completely changed the aspect of the game.

F. MAIR

Wazir Ali and Navle, the opening Indian pair were dismissed early, the former scoring 2 runs and the latter 0.

The Australians led by Ryder go out to field against the Indian XI.

CALCUTTA CONFERENCE

Women Delegates From All Parts Of World To Attend

CALCUTTA: Dec. 3.

At the invitation of the National Council of Women in India, the International Council of Women are to hold a conference in Calcutta from January 30th to February 4 next. The Marchioness of Aberdeen and Tremaire, President of the International Council of Women, will herself attend the Conference, and delegates from all parts of the world, including European countries, Canada, America, Australia, New Zealand, China, Japan and Burma, are expected to attend along with the innumerable prominent women from all parts of India.

Never before has India offered hospitality to such an international gathering of women, and the International Council of Women's Conference to be held in Calcutta is unique in the history of this country.

The subjects to be discussed at the Conference are mainly divided into the following groups:—Education, Public Health, Legal Disabilities of Women and Traffic in Women and Children. These main groups are again divided into a number of sub-groups and eminent speakers from all parts of the world are expected to address the Conference.

Apart from the work that the Conference is expected to do and the reforms it is bound to set afoot, the social value of the Conference will be invaluable, and at last, the women of India will have an opportunity of showing to the world their great hospitality and friendship to their sisters of other nations.

An added attraction to the programme of the Conference will be the inclusion of the biennial meeting of the National Council of Women in India, at which Her Highness the Maharani of Baroda will preside.—United Press.

LOWER COURT'S DECREE SET ASIDE

Interesting Case About Ownership Of 100 Year Old Temple

(From Our Correspondent.)

THANA, December 4.

A dispute regarding the ownership of a 100-year-old Maruti temple, situated in the vicinity of the district prison at Thana was the subject matter of a civil suit filed by Mr. Yeshwant Bhagwant Gade against Mr. Damodar Yesu Haldankar and five others.

The plaintiff brought this suit for a declaration that he has the right to manage the property and temple of Maruti near Thana Jail, to worship the deity and receive the offerings, and for the possession of the temple property.

The Joint Second Class Sub-Judge at Thana after recording evidence dismissed the suit with costs.

Against this decree the plaintiff appealed in the court of the District Judge. Mr. S. M. Kaikini, Assistant Judge, allowed the appeal and set aside the decree of the lower court. He came to the conclusion that the right of management vested in the appellant —plaintiff, because he had exercised that right within 12 years of the filing of the suit. The Assistant Judge, therefore, declared that the appellant had the right to manage the property and temple of Maruti, to receive offerings placed before the deity. He also ordered that the appellant should be given possession of the temple property by the respondent, and about Rs. 150 lying in the court the appellant-plaintiff to get costs both in the lower court and the appellate court from the respondents—defendants.

Mr M. S. Rangnekar appeared for the appellant, and Mr. K. N. Dharap for the respondents.

The Bihar and Orissa police has declared a reward of Rs. 200 to be awarded to any person who will give information leading to the clue and detection of the offenders concerned in the attempt to derail train by removing fish-plates on the up line between Chichakl and Chaichur band railway station of Grand Chord line on November 6 last.
